"Winterset" Opens Tonight At Forest Theatre

The Forest Theatre Guild's production of Maxwell Anderson's powerful drama, "Winterset," will open tonight at the Forest Theatre under the direction of Cole Weston.

Playing the roles of the ill-fated lovers, Mio and Mariamne, are John Craig and Jane Prosser, whose conflict with the gangster Trock, portrayed by Erik Fog, makes a suspenseful and deeply moving story. The large cast also includes Sam Wainwright, Bill Handley, John Mitchell, Ronald Fay, Alan Van Nuys, Pop Smith, Val Clement, Jim Campbell, Marge Cain, Nikk Newkirk, Charles Killian, Alec Merivale, Rick Harris and Cole Weston.

Craig and Van Nuys are newcomers to Carmel and will make their first local appearances with the Forest Theatre Guild tonight. Van Nuys, a graduate of Stanford University, has moved to Carmel with his wife and eight-year-old son to make his home here. Craig, who has a fine record of study in drama courses, particularly at Southwestern Tech in Oklahoma, has appeared in shows of such variety as Moliere's "The Imaginary Invalid" and P. G. Wodehouse's "Kiss and Tell."

The sets for tonight's production were designed by local artist Bruce Ariss, who also headed the construction crew that consisted for the most part of members of the cast.

"Winterset" will be presented tonight and tomorrow night and repeated next Friday and Saturday, October 6 and 7. Tickets for the play are on sale near the Village Corner in Carmel.

Lucky Boy Opens New Market

Lucky Boy Markets, Inc., a locally-owned food chain, opens a new supermarket today at 2222 Fremont, Monterey.

The new market represents a continuation of the recent policy change in the type of stores operated by Lucky Boy. Instead of a greater number of small neighborhood stores, the chain plans to open supermarkets where conditions warrant, according to S. Crispin, president.

The chain recently sold its Carmel store to Walt Pilot. Mr. Crispin said that the Carmel store was the first one of the chain he established several years ago and he regretted the changed conditions that brought about the necessity of its disposal. He has extended an invitation to his many friends in Carmel to see the new store, which embodies the latest in supermarket design. The new Lucky Boy market had a preview last night at which samples and demonstrations were featured. In addition to grocery, meat and vegetables, the store has a branch U.S. Post Office and a gadget shop.

A NEW POST OFFICE BUILDING? MAYBE!

Carmel may have a new post office building and location. This is the interesting news released today by Ernest Bixler, Carmel Postmaster.

The present lease on the post office building expires March 1, 1951, and Uncle Sam has recognized the growth of Carmel and the outlying districts served by the Carmel branch. The present facilities are not large enough. At least 5,600 square feet of floor space is needed and plans and bids for proposed locations are now open. Anyone interested in furnishing a location on a lease basis is requested to contact Ernest Bixler at the post office before October 31, 1950.

The Carmel post office, which has the heaviest traffic in town, has been located in its present spot for nine years. It has made nearby properties increase greatly in value because of the fact that there is no mail delivery service and Carmel residents must visit the post office to pick up their mail.

If the owner of the present building wishes to offer improved facilities that would be acceptable to post office authorities over any competing bids, the move might not be necessary. If he does not desire to compete in the expected race to furnish the needed facilities, a change in location could have a far reaching effect upon real estate values in Carmel.

Carmel Work Center Notes

By Carol Tindell

The Carmel Work Center is growing faster and faster. Since it first hung out its shingle a few months ago the Work Center's growth has been miraculous...thanks to all nice people on the Peninsula and the many out of town visitors. Orders are piling in from all over the U.S.A...it seems everyone wants a bit of Carmel in their homes--and can you blame them?

The other morning Janet of Carmel brought in some of her lovely small handbags...made with that special touch of hers.. for only $5.00. (Note to those wise EARLY Christmas Shoppers.) Another extra-special note is the beautiful new line of Christmas Cards by Miss Morton and Miss Yang. The cards depict little scenes of Carmel that you know so well...also some exquisite Japanese prints. You'll be able to see them next Monday at the Work Center. In addition to the cards Charlotte Morton has made a sketch of the Christian Science church for re-print on stationery, correspondence and post cards...another good gift suggestion.

By the way, if you just can't think of the right gift at the right time...walk into the shop at the Seven Arts Court or Pebble Beach and you'll find shelves of beautiful solutions.

PARENT PROBLEMS

IF BULLIES ANNOY YOUR CHILD

By GARRY CLEVELAND MYERS, Ph.D.

IT'S not easy to estimate the number of children under twelve or fifteen who suffer from terrible fear of bullies. While these fears may have occurred in a child from the time he was three or four, they are likely to increase when he enters school. The opportunities for a bully to intimidate a younger child on his way to and from school are, obviously, very great.

Fear of bullies causes timid children to tattle, to be cry babies, to be quarrelsome, to fight from ambush, to resort to sticks and stones for self-defense, to grow more anti-social, even to bully younger, weaker children. A good many children, dreading bullies, want to stay home on school mornings. Some of these will feign all sorts of sickness and actually develop symptoms of illness to escape going to school, though being perfectly well and happy later in the day and on all other mornings of the week.

Consult Physician

You will, of course, have this child carefully checked by your physician. If he finds no physical cause for the child's symptoms of illness, he may advise that the child remain home for the day but be put to bed and kept there till the next morning, with light diet and not too much attention and amusement. Then if this child had been malingering, he may choose to go to school the next day. Nevertheless, if it is a bully he dreads, he may prefer to stay all day in bed to escape him.

If your child is persecuted by a bully chiefly on the way to and from school, you will want to find some means to protect him. You might hire a boy several years older than your child to accompany him. You might have your child go by a different street. You might even find it desirable to take your child to and from school by car or on foot. The last-named remedy may, however, make your child more dependent on you and a better victim for the bully elsewhere.

Other Protections

Sometimes the school chooses to dismiss the few known bullies several minutes later than the other children at the end of the school day.

Of course, the bully picks first and oftenest on the child he can torment most easily, on the child who is very timid and lonely, who has not learned to defend himself. (My bulletins, "Your Child and His Playmates" and "Tot Learning to Be Sociable," may be had by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of this paper.)

But there's no sense in urging a child, fearful of bullies, to stand up against a child much stronger and more agile than himself.

Helping the Bully

Usually the bully is a very unhappy child, often a coward. He may be in mortal dread of older, larger bullies. Perhaps he does not feel happy at home or in school. He may not do well in the usual play skills. He may feel very inferior. Tormenting weaker, younger children makes him feel that he is brave and successful. Anything that can be done to help the bully feel a more worthy person can help him to cease bullying.

In the neighborhood, the parent of a child fearful of a bully living nearby can do most to protect his own child by helping the bully feel more worthy--by honest praise of the bully's good traits in his parents' presence, encouraging him to join the Cubs or Scouts, even hiring him to run errands or to be a protector of the timid children. While few parents recognize their own child as a bully, it is they who should be able to do most for him.

ROTARY TAKES A TRIP... On Tuesday, as many Carmel Rotarians as could leave their businesses gathered at the Pine Inn at 10 o'clock in the morning, leaving from there by bus for the new P.G. & E. Moss Landing Steam Plant. Joined by Rotarians from Pacific Grove, they were given a most interesting tour of the 402,000 horsepower electric generating plant, constructed at a cost of $51,500,000. This wonder plant went into operation 20 months after ground breaking. According to A. B. Jacobsen, chairman of the Monterey County Board of Supervisors, "It has cost more money to build, it covers more acres of land, and it will contribute more money in local taxes than any other single industrial development in the county's history."

After touring the plant Rotarians lunched at Loma Linda and returned home about 3:30 P.M. (Ed. Note: Unfortunately your editor, a Carmel Rotarian, had to remain behind in order to work on this week's paper. The gentleman on the right, with hat in hand, is Carum Jackson, president of the local club. In return for this "plug" we hope Mr. Jackson does not fine us for missing a meeting.)

"Our new electric range is out of this world"

Cooking seemed an awful chore,
Kept me flustered and concerned,
Made me fret and pace the floor,
Almost frantic when I learned...

"With a new electric range, ma'am,
You don't gamble on the heat;
It's controlled and automatic.
Thrifty, too, and hard to beat!"

My electric range is priceless!
Roasts are perfect! Cakes immense!
Daily meals are better and I
Do it all on seven cents! (*)

Need a New Range, Folks? The latest electric ranges offer you 7 modern advantages! They're automatic, cool, clean, thrifty, fast and efficient. Porcelain enamel, inside and out, is rustproof, corrosion proof, easy to clean. Super-size automatic ovens heat in a jiffy. Broilers are smokeless. Top units provide meat-well heat for any surface cooking job. Deep well units cook homey foods perfectly. Let your dealer show you why it will pay to get a new electric range!

Monterey Peninsula Stamp Club Meets

Colonel John R. Wright presided at the recent meeting of the Monterey Peninsula Stamp Club at Sunset School. Minutes of the previous meeting and the treasurer's report were given by Mrs. Cary C. Smead. Members voted to join the National Federation of Stamp Clubs. Leslie S. Stallings was appointed to represent the local club in this organization. President Wright announced that the annual meeting of the Monterey Peninsula Stamp Club will be on November 5 this year. The following committees were appointed: Nominating Committee, General E. S. Adams, Dr. E. T. Patee and Mrs. Nora Law; Dinner Committee, Colonel William B. Graham, Mrs. Harriet H. Ferrante and Mrs. Gladys Stallings.

Door prizes donated by Arch Gibson and Leslie S. Stallings were won by Peter Ferrante, Dr. E. T. Patee and Mrs. Nora Law.

Leslie S. Stallings, chairman of the program committee, introduced the speaker of the evening, Mrs. Emily J.

Balsam (wife of Colonel Alfred S. Balsam, Carmel Highlands). Mrs. Balsam had prepared an exhibit of the history of the Philippines arranged in stamps. There were three frames including air mails, Jose Rizal stamps and various surcharges showing Spanish dominion and changes of government through the Commonwealth in 1936, the Japanese occupation in 1942, the puppet government in 1943 and the present Republic.

Mrs. Balsam's exhibit included envelopes and covers bearing from one to ten stamps mailed to her clipper mail in U.S.A. by her husband while he remained in the Philippines.

A large group in Room 11, Sunset School, enjoyed Mrs. Balsam's talk. Members expressed appreciation for the privilege of viewing her stamps, her paintings and scrap book of the country, and especially for her interesting talk.

Following the address, a stamp auction was conducted by Arch Gibson and General E. S. Adams.

The next meeting of the Monterey Stamp Club will be Monday, October 2, in Room 111, Sunset School at 8 p.m., at which time there will be an auction.

Girl Scouts Need Help In Housecleaning Problem

The Girl Scouts of Carmel have a house of their own, but they're finding it a problem to keep it clean.

What they need is a second-hand vacuum cleaner of the tank type and they hope that someone who is getting a new one will offer them the old one. The girls aren't particular about its age or its looks, but would prefer one that's in good working condition. Anyone who wishes to give them a helping hand with their cleaning problem can do so by calling 7-3031.

Audubon Screen Tours To Be Shown Here

Five of the nation's leading naturalists and wildlife photographers are scheduled for the Audubon Screen Tours series here this season under the sponsorship of the local Audubon Society.

The first program, "Beneath Buckeye Skies," by Karl H. Waslowski will be presented at Sunset Auditorium Saturday, October 14.

Others in the series, which features color motion pictures of wildlife and wilderness scenery taken from eastern Canada to California, are "By Erie's Changing Shores," by George H. Orians, November 17; "Canada East," by Bert Harwell, January 5; "Underwater Kingdom," by Lucie Palmer, February 2, and "Below the Big Bend," by Allan Cruickshank, March 3.

Audubon Screen Tours are now presented in more than 140 cities throughout the United States and Canada and are an important part of the educational program being undertaken by the National Audubon Society to increase public appreciation of wildlife and wilderness values and to promote wise use of natural resources.

To audiences in participating cities, Audubon Screen Tours bring almost within arm's reach some of the rarest and most interesting wild creatures, recorded on color film in their native haunts by naturalists who have traveled thousands of miles for photographs of mountain sheep, moose, cranes, spoonbills and other wildlife seldom seen by the casual observer.

The National Audubon Society, the largest conservation organization in the world, has enrolled more than 8,000,000 boys and girls in Audubon Junior Clubs where they learn the elements of nature study. Audubon Society wardens patrol upwards of 2,000,000 acres of wilderness for the protection of millions of egrets, ibises, waterfowl and other birds.

In addition to the Screen Tours, another important project designed to advance conservation education is the operation of four Audubon Camps where teachers and other youth leaders receive training in nature lore and conservation. One of these Camps is located in California, in the High Sierra near Norden. Founded in 1905, the National Audubon Society is a non-profit organization, deriving its support from memberships and contributions.

Club Will Sponsor Bridge Lessons

The first of a series of bridge lessons will be given next Friday evening, October 6, at the Carmel Woman's Club by Mr. and Mrs. George Gooden, well-known experts.

Repeated because of their popularity last year, the lessons will be given each Friday from 7:30 to 8:30 P.M. There will be continuous supervised play for beginners, and a bridge tournament for advanced players following the lessons.

Mr. Gooden, the author of several books on bridge, is considered one of the best teachers in this country.

Annual Turkey Shoot Set for October 8

This year many leading Northern California marksmen are expected to attend the popular turkey shoot sponsored annually by Monterey Peninsula Post 41 of the American Legion.

Big prime turkeys will be given away on the trap shooting, rifle and .22 caliber ranges as well as in various games, and refreshments will be provided for participants. Admission is free.

Preparations are being made for an even larger crowd of sportsmen than the 5,000 who last year attended the all-day event, a major Legion affair. Elmer Zanetta, originator of the turkey shoot, will again serve as advisory chairman of the committee in charge of arrangements. Chairman Charles Houseman has announced.

Funds raised are used both for maintenance of Legion activities and for community service, Houseman stated.

The Retired Officers of the Monterey Peninsula area and vicinity will meet Tuesday evening at the Officers' Club at Fort Ord for their regular monthly dinner.

LAWRENCE MARIO GIANNINI, president of the Bank of America, has accepted the chairmanship of the 1951 March of Dimes in California. Basil O'Connor, president of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, disclosed today. This marks Mr. Giannini's second consecutive year as head of the National Foundation's fund-raising appeal in California.

Wanted: White Elephants

Any white elephants around your house lately? If there have been, and if you don't know what to do with them, the members of the Carmel Woman's Club can help you out.

The list of things they're now looking for--for their fall rummage sale October 30--is practically unlimited. Discarded clothing, books, bric-a-brac, kitchen utensils, picture frames, antiques, cracked mixing bowls--anything, in fact, junk or otherwise, that can be turned into money for their building fund.

Club members are going the rounds in Carmel, but in case they should miss the home of anyone who has a contribution to make, a phone call to Mrs. F. E. Vaughan (7-4518) or Mrs. James Burgess (7-7736) will bring a collector running in short order. The ladies guarantee that they can rid store rooms and closets of any cluttered-up condition they might be in. They'll be on the job all through October.

The Morse Cup Team matches are to be played at the Cypress Point Golf Course tomorrow and Sunday, with a crack team of eight golfers coming down from the Pacific Northwest to meet a top-flight team from California.

To honor these players a number of social events have been planned by a committee headed by Harrison Godwin. Committee members are Bing Crosby, Harry Hunt, George L. Coleman, Jr., Francis H. I. Brown and Harrison Godwin.

Francis Brown will host a cocktail party at the Beach Club, Pebble Beach, Wednesday evening for Morse Cup Team members and directors of the California Golf Association and their wives. Thursday evening Mr. and Mrs. John Boit Morse have invited the group for cocktails and a buffet supper at their Pebble Beach home. Friday the Monterey Peninsula Country Club will be the scene of a dinner for which the California Golf Association is host.

Harrison Godwin has chosen Saturday night to honor the group with cocktails and dinner, and Sunday evening Samuel F. B. Morse, donor of the permanent trophy for the golfing event, will preside at an award dinner at the Cypress Point Club.

The California Amateur Golf Championship gets under way at Pebble Beach Monday. A number of large house parties are being planned for that week as well as many events to honor the golfers who will travel to the Monterey Peninsula for the biggest golfing event of the year.

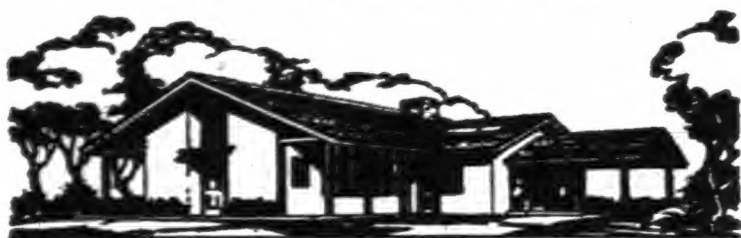

A BIG WEEK FOR GOLFERS

GOLF is in the air on the Monterey Peninsula, with the Morse Cup Team matches scheduled for tomorrow and Sunday, and the California Amateur Championship beginning Monday.

This may get Stalin in a jam with the Politburo

He's against just about everything American—except certain American brands that help him live better.

Stalin likes a manufacturer's brand of American pipe tobacco—and buys it regularly through his Russian Embassy in Washington.

Reliable reports also have it that Stalin rides in a famous American automobile—and probably uses other brand-name American products.

We don't blame him.

In Russia he has no real choice of good makers' brand-name products.

As a buyer in Russia . . . he'd get none of the advantages you get every day from the trademark products of every kind.

The advantage of quality and constant improvement of product, for instance, that comes when manufacturers must compete to give ever greater dollar value.

The assurance of satisfaction that can only come when manufacturers are proud enough of their products to sign their names—and to stand behind them to guarantee satisfaction.

The freedom of choice—the right to suit your personal taste—to shop the "ads" and buy with confidence in the information presented in your free press.

Certainly it's to Stalin's personal advantage to buy American brands . . . but we wonder how he explains it to the Politburo.

For communists know that our great strengths in peace—and in war if necessary—are the industries built by our famous brands.

That's why the Russian policy is to try to break down faith in our manufacturers' brands, in advertising, and in everything else important to American industry.

But how are they going to change your mind about what's good for you . . . when even the boss of Russia doesn't personally practice what he preaches?

Annual Conference Of American Cancer Society

The never-ending fight against cancer will be spotlighted in San Francisco on September 29 and 30, when the Fourth Annual Conference of the American Cancer Society will be held.

Outstanding physicians, scientists, and lay leaders in cancer control work from 40 counties in California. They will meet to discuss program plans for the coming year and to hear reports of the latest developments in cancer research on both the State and national fronts.

Attending from Monterey County are Byington Ford, president of the Monterey County branch, and Ernest E. Simard, M.D., chairman of the board of directors, representing the Monterey County Branch of the American Cancer Society.

Federal Insurance Coverage By Savings and Loan

The Carmel Savings and Loan Association is announcing that, effective immediately, federal insurance coverage will be provided on all savings accounts up to $10,000.00. The previous maximum coverage was $5,000.00.

Barnet J. Segal, secretary-treasurer of the association, said the increased coverage follows the signing into law, on September 21, by President Truman, of legislation boosting insurance protection for associations with savings accounts insured by the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation.

"Our association will bear all the cost of protection for our customers," said Mr. Segal, "and the new law affords us the opportunity of securing a further safeguard for the funds of our savers."

He pointed out that the increased insurance coverage applies equally to all accounts held by an individual, two persons with right of survivorship, trusteeships, partnerships and corporations.

As of June 30, 1950, there were insured savings associations all over the country with total savings of the public of $10,754,000,000.00. This amount represents about 80 per cent of all savings held by these institutions, both insured and uninsured. Across the country as a whole, nearly $11,000,000.00 was paid by savings associations in premiums to FSLIC.

At present, approximately 93 per cent of all savings held by insured institutions are included in accounts under $5,000.00 and are already covered. With the increased coverage, this total will rise immediately to 98 per cent.

It is expected the number of persons with savings accounts over $5,000.00 will rise steadily as the public becomes more and more familiar with provisions of the new law.

Call the Grass Doctors

Now Is The Time To Beautify Your Lawn

Send for the grass doctors and let them give your lawn a treatment.

Let Dr. Rake comb out the old matted grass: let Dr. H₂O pour on enough water to leach out the impurities in the soil: let Dr. Weedkiller go after the crabgrass and other interlopers: let Dr. Grassfood give your lawn the minerals it needs: and then let Dr. Seed sow the bare spots.

Here's the trick for successful seeding—scratch the ground so that there will be little hollows where the seeds can snuggle; mix sand with the seeds before sowing so they will be evenly distributed and won't fall in bunches; keep seeded places moist at all times.

Proper care at this time of year will result in a nice lush lawn later on. Your nursery man can tell you about the various kinds of selective weed killers and fertilizers available.

Explosions and Fire At Cain Home

Fire broke out Wednesday at the home of George and Marge Cain, well known Carmel photographers. At the time we go to press the cause of the fire has not been definitely established although it is thought to have been caused by a broken gas main in the tree in front of the Cain home on Mission.

The section of the road by the house is not paved but was being prepared for tarring Wednesday. Apparently the scraping machine cut a gas pipe close to the surface, causing a flood of gas to escape. The fire started in the basement of the Cain home and caused an explosion that, to the horrified eyes of Marge Cain, who was alone in the house at the time, sent flames up the side of the house. She called the Carmel Fire Department, which responded within a few moments. While firemen were in the basement attempting to remove some inflammable material used in connection with the Cains' photographic work, a second explosion occurred which knocked several firemen out of the basement. One injured was volunteer fireman John Huddleson, who was later treated for burns and shock.

ARE YOU MAD ABOUT ANTIQUES? Whether you collect or just browse around, here is a wonderful opportunity to get some good things. I dropped in on the TURNABOUT SHOP across the street from the Post Office and discovered that Mrs. Teudt is having a month-end clearance of her wonderful stock, including new stock from a Santa Cruz auction. Everything is to be sold one-fourth off. I saw a lot, including odd pieces, of Limoges' lovely Haviland china made in France over 85 years ago. If Haviland is your meat, here is a good opportunity to buy it all or fill in. Then there are some beautifully cut and very old crystal sherry and wine glasses. The cut work is very simple (looks almost like beading), and these would fit in a modern home very well.

As I walked through the rooms I found some real gems--exquisite pieces of Dresden, a pair of English Staffordshire vases, a quaint French clock with matching vases, a Meissen urn, a brilliantly pressed Sandwich glass bowl, numerous milk glass pieces, a cut glass water set, an unusual Daisy and Button cruet, and a very large signed Steuben bowl at a fabulously low price. Remember that although these precious articles are already priced low, the one-quarter off still applies to them.

If you like Victorian furniture, there is a handsome desk and table of that period. So--go to the TURNABOUT SHOP and pick up some real bargains in lovely things for your home.

TOURISTS AND PENINSULITES! Take advantage of the BAY RAPID TRANSIT COMPANY'S two and one-half hour sight seeing tour of the spectacular Monterey Peninsula. It is not necessary, but advisable, that you telephone Monterey 5-4131 for a reservation. You leave from the BAY RAPID TRANSIT COMPANY bus depot at Del Monte and Tyler Streets and ride in a luxurious, loud-speaker equipped bus for a complete tour of major historic spots and scenic points of interest.

You stop at the Del Monte Line School and at all the historic buildings of Monterey. You ride along the shore line of Pacific Grove, through Del Monte Woods, along the 17-Mile Drive, stopping at Bird Rock, Seal Rock, Midway Point, where the Lone Cypress stands in its stark rigidity, and Point Joe where two currents meet and stir up the water. You see all the famous golf courses, and go along Scenic Drive in Carmel to Carmel Mission. A lecture hostess on the bus calls attention to all the points of interest, and you have an escorted tour of the Carmel Mission. Twenty-eight miles are covered--and the fee is $2.50 for a $3.63 ride, including tolls and tax, which the BAY RAPID TRANSIT COMPANY absorbs. Now where could anyone have so much fun in such a comfortable way? When you call for your reservations, please say you learned of this tour in "Eye Openers on the Peninsula."

NO MEASURING--NO INTERMIXING...yet you can, in five minutes, select distinctive color schemes that go with the newest home furnishings, when you choose DUNNE Color Suited PAINTS--now available in a multitude of decorators' colors at the CARMEL PAINT & WALL-PAPER COMPANY at Junipero and 4th. These colors galore have been carefully selected by leading decorators to go with new draperies, rugs, textiles, wallpapers, lamps and home furnishings, and they have been approved by the Color Council on Home Furnishings. In this galaxy of hues you will find colors for traditional effects as well as the very latest shades for modern interiors.

DUNNE Color Suited PAINTS are offered in matching FLAT WALL, SEMI-GLOSS, and HIGH GLOSS ENAMEL, not only for interior use, but also in a wide range of colors at the CARMEL PAINT & WALL-PAPER COMPANY for exterior use on either wood or masonry.

Truly, you've never seen anything like the DUNNE color system! It's scientific and yet simple. Familiar card symbols are used in the DUNNE Color Suited system to help you choose ACCENT, GO-TOGETHER AND COMPLIMENTARY colors. Thus you can achieve a scientifically correct color scheme with no more effort than arranging a canasta hand.

DO YOU EVER SUFFER from allergy problems, that "always tired" feeling, sleeplessness or chronic irregularity? If you do, then look to a nutritionist for help in balancing your diet. Mrs. Adelaide O'Brien, who for many years worked with Dr. T. A. McKay of Tacoma, and who also managed the Sunrise Mineral Springs Sanitarium at Hubbard, Oregon, is now at SARGANT'S HEALTH & SPECIALTY FOODS between Dolores and San Carlos. By Howard Statham

THE TWO-YEAR-OLD SON of the couple next door lately has struck up a friendship with someone unseen and unheard by others than the boy himself, and my wife has been watching the progress of this friendship with keen interest. Apparently the friend is a touchy individual, and the little boy has been going to great lengths to keep him happy.

The latest incident observed by my wife occurred this week. The boy was outside our kitchen window playing with a bunch of bricks and carrying on quite a conversation with his invisible friend. He piled the bricks up into a reasonable facsimile of a small bench, sat down himself on a nearby wooden box and told his companion to sit on the bricks.

"You sit there," he said, pointing. Evidently nothing happened.

"Go on," he urged, "sit down." Something about the bricks, however, failed to meet with approval. The boy frowned, said "Oh, all right," in a slightly grudging tone, got up from the box (which undoubtedly was the more comfortable place to sit), and sat down on the bricks. The friend must have taken over the box immediately, because a big smile came over the face of the boy. "Is that better?" he enquired.

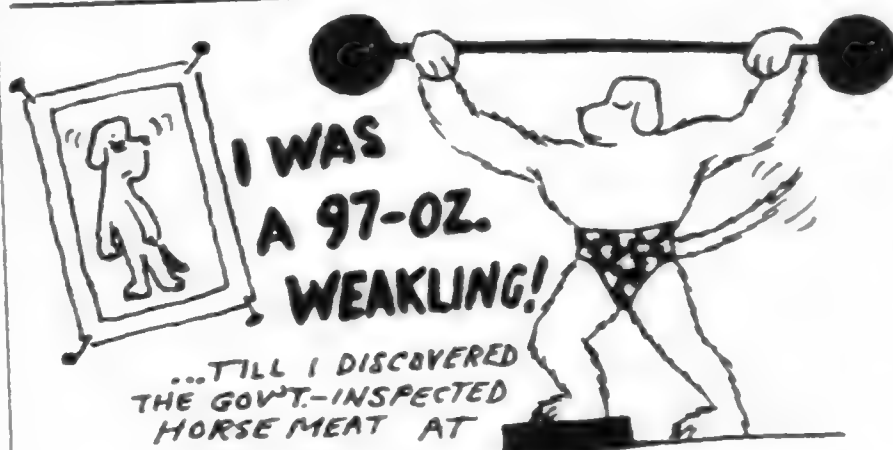

A NEW TWIST on an old desert was reported in the San Francisco Chronicle a short while ago. Said the story: "After a repast of rich chicken noodle soup, roast beef, mashed potatoes and gravy, strawberry shortcake, topped with coffee, cigars and cigarettes..."

We're always on the lookout for something new and exciting. This one sounds really different. Let's hope that it isn't run into the ground too quickly.

The SPECTATOR wasn't trying to close the Highlands Inn completely on Mondays when it

Among the guests were Misses E. J. Schmidt and M. L. Murphy of Chicago; Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Dean, Berkeley; Mr. and Mrs. Paul J. Hampl, San Francisco; Mrs. J. B. Gibson, Salt Lake City; Mr. and Mrs. H. Irving Rhine and Mrs. A. J. McBoyle, San Francisco; Mr. and Mrs. Earl Brown, San Francisco; Mr. and Mrs. Rex A. Daddisman, San Francisco; Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Cortelyou, San Francisco, and Mrs. E. A. Chaix, Rutherford, California.

Also at the Lodge last weekend were Collette Lyons of Hollywood; Marion Eddy, Carmel Valley; George R. Heast, Beverly Hills; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Goss; Mr. and Mrs. Don Murray and guests; Mr. and Mrs. Paul Porter and party; Mr. and Mrs. Ed Hall and party; Mr. and Mrs. J. Robertson, Oakland (2nd anniversary); Mr. and Mrs. Don Norman, Richard Westbrook, Los Angeles; George Blair, Los Angeles, and Miss Dorothea Davis, Los Angeles.

...Author's Agent Harvey Taylor, in Carmel this week to see some clients, dropped into the SPECTATOR office to place a classified ad. "The word I get around town," he volunteered, "is that the SPECTATOR is really 'it.' I like it and I think you are doing a fine job." Thanks for the ad, Mr. Taylor, but thanks more for the kind words. We can all use encouragement in our work from time to time. -- Ed.

ANSWER TO TEN WEEK'S

WHO IS IT?

This week our "Who Is It?" is a comparative newcomer to the Monterey area. She's Miss Margot Keith, a lady of Scottish descent whose heart, since May of this year, has been in the Highlands--the Carmel Highlands. She is managing the Highlands Inn for its owner, R. J. Ramsey, of Oakland, and while she was chosen for the job because of her managing abilities, she says that the fact her name is Keith probably didn't do her any harm.

Some ladies are likely to let their minds wander elsewhere when the subject of birthdates comes up, but not Miss Keith. "I'm thirty-four," she says quite frankly, which means that she was born in 1916. The place was Portland, Oregon, and her parents' choice of name for her made her the third Margot in the Keith family.

She was graduated from the University of Washington in 1938 with a major in institution management. That now makes her one of those seemingly rare persons who are doing exactly what they went to college to learn how to do. But she had other types of management work than the Highlands Inn type before she came here. After her graduation from the university she was with American Air Lines in New York and San Francisco, and then, during the war, she was overseas for two and a half years, serving as a Red Cross club director in England, France and Germany. She remembers with pardonable pride that at one time in Germany the organization of which she was in charge was making and dishing out to the doughboys 25,000 doughnuts a day. The doughnut machine, which couldn't take it as well as Miss Keith and her helpers could, occasionally broke down, but when it did they would repair it with something from a jeep's insides, and sinkers would roll off the assembly line once more.

After the war, Miss Keith took a year's vacation in Mexico. Her most easily recollectable experience south of the border was the broken leg she received while skiing. Back on home territory, she managed the food service for the Berkeley City Women's Club in 1948, and after that became a food service free lancer, helping restaurants and clubs figure out just what was wrong with--well, the tomato aspic, for instance.

And then, this year, to the Highlands Inn. Since her arrival,

"The Happiest Years"Opens October 5

The Wharf Players will present "The Happiest Years," by Thomas Coley and William Roerick beginning October 5 and running three consecutive weekends, Thursdays through Sundays. The play was first produced at the Lyceum Theatre, New York, April 25, 1949, with Peggy Wood. This will be the first time the play has been produced by any group on the West coast.

The story concerns a veteran back at college on the G.I. Bill, studying to be a professor. He and his young wife live with her family and the house is crowded. The pressure of work and study makes him appear to be neglecting his wife. His well meaning mother-in-law, who wants things to go right, decides that he is more interested in a female student, with whom he has to study, than he is in his own wife. The young wife listens to her mother and finally decides that her husband is treating her like an old shoe. The action is further complicated by the arrival of an aunt and uncle, who are well-meaning, and totally ignorant of the situation. The play precipitates into a comedy of situations and domestic crises, which are eventually worked out at the final curtain.

The local cast consists of the following people: Alex Olivetti, Beverly Porter, Bee Mouser, Dee Olivetti, William Fort, Burton Minkin, Cherry Henderson, Kenn I. Smith, Betty Fowlston.
